To maintain decorum during the Commencement Ceremony, the audience is requested to remain seated while the diplomas are being awarded and until the academic procession is completed.
Academic Regalia

Academic ceremonies with gowns, mortarboards, tassels, hoods, and maces are traditions handed down from European universities of the Middle Ages. These first organized institutions of learning originated during the 12th and 13th centuries, generally under the jurisdiction of the church. Robes, hoods, and caps were worn mainly for warmth in unheated buildings by the clerics, monks, and priests who were the first students.

European universities continue to show great diversity in their academic dress. In the United States, as the result of our English heritage, caps and gowns have been used since colonial times by the faculties of some universities and became generally standardized about 1895.

The field of study is indicated by the color of velvet facing (under the chin) of the hood of all master’s and doctoral degree holders.

- Maize ................................................................. Agriculture
- White ............................................................... Arts, Letters, Humanities
- Drab ................................................................. Business Administration
- Lilac ................................................................. Dentistry
- Light Blue .......................................................... Education
- Orange ............................................................... Engineering
- Antique Gold .............................. Environmental Science and Engineering
- Brown ............................................................... Fine Arts, Architecture
- Purple ............................................................... Law
- Lemon ............................................................... Library Science
- Kelly Green ...................................................... Medicine
- Pink ................................................................. Music
- Apricot ............................................................. Nursing
- Dark Blue ......................................................... Philosophy
- Peacock Blue .................................................... Public Administration
- Salmon Pink ...................................................... Public Health
- Golden Yellow .................................................. Science
- Bright Pink ....................................................... Social Psychiatry
- Citron .............................................................. Social Welfare

The title of the degree, not the subject studied, governs the color of the velvet facing: e.g., a Master of Education wears light blue, but a Master of Arts with a major in education, white velvet; a Master of Public Health uses salmon pink velvet, but a Master of Science with a major in public health wears gold.

The Lamp of Learning

Dating from ancient times, the lamp is the symbol of intelligence, learning, wisdom and knowledge.

The first documented reference to the lamp at Riverside Community College appeared in proposed architectural drawings of the Quadrangle by Peter Weber in 1926. The lamp, mounted on three books, was etched over the entrance of the Quadrangle by 1938. Although that arch disappeared during a later renovation, the south arch now bears a representation of the lamp, supported by the words: Wisdom is my Light.
President’s Message

Dr. Brenda Davis

Welcome to our students, families, guests, faculty and staff.

Tonight marks another important moment for Norco Campus and our students. For the campus, this is, in all likelihood, our final commencement ceremony as the Riverside Community College District, Norco Campus. In January 2010, we are anticipating achieving accreditation as a college by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, thus becoming Norco College.

For this year’s graduates, receiving their diploma this evening marks a significant step down the path toward success as students, family members and citizens. Just as significantly, the Class of 2009 has played a key role by joining us in planning for our future as Norco College. Student leaders have helped articulate the vision that we now see coming to fruition in the form of new buildings, athletic facilities, instructional programs and, ultimately, the birth of California’s 111th community college.

For those who graduate tonight, we offer our sincere gratitude for the contributions you have made to your college and wish you the best of luck as you embark upon your future endeavors.
2009 Norco Campus Academic Speaker

Mr. Robert Prior
Associate Professor, Mathematics

Bob Prior has been a full-time faculty member for the Riverside Community College District since 1990 and was one of a handful of faculty who began teaching at the Norco Campus in its inaugural year, Fall 1991, teaching mathematics and serving as the Campus’s first student activity coordinator (1991-94). To prepare for this, Prior received his bachelor’s degree in Mathematics from UC San Diego (1980) and his master’s degree in Mathematics from Cal State Fullerton (1988). He also taught high school mathematics for 10 years prior to his move to RCCD.

Prior served the campus for 10 years as a department chair, most recently for the Math and Sciences department. He has seen the campus grow from five buildings and 2,300 students to more than 10 buildings and 10,000 students. Through a University of California grant, Prior partnered with UCR to offer intensive summer math institutes to high school algebra and upper elementary school teachers.

In addition, Prior serves the communities of Norco and Corona as a member of the Norco Kiwanis club and as a member of the Corona-Norco Day of the Child Committee, serving as master of ceremonies and assistant to the assistant sound technician (i.e., water boy).

Prior has authored three developmental math texts for use in on-line and campus classes for RCCD: Basic Math, Pre-Algebra, and Elementary Algebra. Recently, Addison Wesley published two of those titles for its national collegiate audience. He has been a frequent presenter at both regional and national math conferences. At the California Mathematics Council of Community Colleges conference in 2007, he won an opportunity to appear on the TV show NUMB3RS. He has also appeared on two TV game shows (still in reruns on the Game Show Network) where he won $1,500 and “lovely parting gifts.”

Prior and his wife, Laura, reside in Norco. In addition to being married nearly 24 years, the Priors’ major accomplishments include seeing both their children graduate from college and marry their soul mates. Katie married Arash in San Diego in 2008, and Nate married Samantha in Wichita, KS in 2009. There is no hurry on grandchildren.
Ms. Karina Medel
President, Associated Students of Norco Campus

Despite the paths laid out for me from my family, I have broken the mold of the traditional Mexican woman. In my family it is unheard of for a woman to do anything but get married and become a housewife. I have dreams and aspirations that break and defy those expectations. Growing up, I was persecuted by my family for being the “rebel” child who wanted to achieve greatness. Despite all the opposition I have received in my life I, know I am achieving my goals.

Earning an associate’s degree in arts and humanities and becoming the first in my family to attend college brings me one step closer to my goal.

I want to be a role model for my family. I believe that when one person in a family goes to college, a snowball effect occurs and I would love to see my family excel in their lives. My reason for college is simply to improve my life and to motivate the ones that I care about the most.

I am studying social sciences in order to transfer to the University of California, Riverside or California Baptist University as a political science and international relations major. With my bachelor’s degree, I plan on working for a non-profit organization in the Corona/Norco area to continue to strengthen already established programs for underprivileged families and underrepresented children.

I have already begun making contributions to the Corona and Norco community through extensive involvement in the 100 Mile Club®, a fitness and wellness program that allows individuals to understand their current leadership and life skills while teaching them the importance of excellent physical health. This program has impacted the lives of over 10,000 students.

My contributions to the RCC Norco Campus include serving as president of the Associated Students and attending the Strategic Plan Committee for Shared Governance. Despite my hectic schedule, I consistently attend these meetings in order to create a solid relationship between students and administrators. At these meetings we ensure the active involvement of all entities at RCC Norco in order for the campus to become accredited as its own college.

What I have accomplished to date is just a fraction of the goals I have and the objectives I wish to complete in my life. I look forward to my future and beginning new traditions in my family.
